BERLIN, Oct. 16.—Germans are striking at Soviet defenses approximately 62 miles from Moscow after capture of the strategic cities of Kalinin and Kaluga, the high command said today, and it was indicated that an important announcement respecting the Soviet capital might be expected soon."In the east we are already fighting at several points on Moscow's outer defense line, which is approximately 100 kilometers from the Soviet capital," a communique said.Defenses of besieged Odessa were reported to have cracked.Now In Nazi Hands Kalinin, railroad center on the upper Volga river 95 miles northwest of Moscow, and Kaluga on the Moscow-Bryansk rail line 90 miles southwest, have been in German hands for several days," the high command said.A hint of "an important announcement, possibly within a matter of hours," was dropped by an authorized spokesman in response to an inquiry as to what was happening to the Russian government and the Moscow diplomatic corps.The spokesman said that in 115 days up to yesterday the German army had taken as much territory as it did in 147 days of operations in Poland, Norway, Holland, France, Yugoslavia, Greece and Crete.The reported occupation of the two cities indicated the Germans are attempting to close a giant pincers and encircle Moscow.The mid-day Russian communique announced that the Red army "continued to fight the enemy along the whole front" and said fighting was particularly intense in the western direction—the area in which the Nazis are pushing toward Moscow.A break fraught with peril for Moscow had been reported in the United States communique, which acknowledged that German tank crews and motorized infantrymen had blundered a path through Russian lines in a huge night attack.On the Leningrad front, the latest war report said, the Russians captured a number of prisoners.Impairment of Red army defenses west of the capital was acknowledged by the Soviet information bureau in a starkly worded communique.

Aided Nazis In U. S.

Frank B. Burch, 67 (above), an Akron attorney and former Ohio state senator, has pleaded guilty in Washington's federal court of failing to register as an agent of the German government. Burch told the court that he thought funds he had used in a campaign were donations from patriotic American citizens with an isolationist viewpoint, even though they were given to him by Karl Kapp, former German consul in Cleveland. Burch faces possible penalties of two years in jail and a $1,000 fine.

JAP CONFLICT
SEEN FOR U. S.Sen. Pepper Says Nation
Should "Immobilize"
Japan In 1st MoveWASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Senator Pepper (D-Pa.) counseled the United States today to prepare for "certain" conflict with Hitler by "immobilizing Japan" and by sweeping the seas clear of the Japanese, German, Italian and French fleets."It is just as certain that we are going to have to fight Hitler as it is that the United States and Great Britain are going to continue to exist," Pepper told newsmen."We and Hitler are going to be the eventual ones between whom the struggle will be decided."The Florida senator, a member of the foreign relations committee and a vehement advocate of more active aid to Axis foes, declared that Japan was awaiting the outcome of the Russo-German war before taking new military steps."If Hitler should destroy Russia," he said, "it follows as night after day that the Japanese will strike with further aggression."Pepper was the second member of the Senate this week to talk of hostilities with Japan. Only Tuesday Senator Norris (Ind-Neb.) said that a German triumph in Russia might touch off war between the United States and Japan in the Pacific as "quick as a wink."Norris added he was not sure that it "would be a bad thing for us."
Pepper took the position that "if Japan is going to be a danger suspended over our back while we are about to enter the struggle against Hitler, we should take satisfactory steps to immobilize Japan before our situation become more acute in the Atlantic. I mean literally immobilize her."The statement that this nation was "about to enter the fight led reporters to ask the senator whatever he favored an American expeditionary force to take the field against Germany.Pepper said he had no comment on that.MEN'S BROTHERHOOD

Old Today; 38 Men
Answer Call Friday(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, Oct. 16.—The nation's first peacetime draft was one year old today.On Oct. 16, 1940, approximately 840,000 Ohioans between the ages of 21 and 36 registered with 330 State Selective Service boards for possible military service.The U. S. Army then numbered only 355,000 men with hardly enough mechanized equipment to mention, and the navy, although recognized by experts as a formidable first line of defense, was not at peak strength.The army now totals 1,580,775, including 750,000 selectees, and constant expansion is bringing to reality plans for a two-ocean navy.Ohio's contribution to the armed forces will number nearly 100,000 by the month's end. Of that total, 45,337 had been inducted into the Army by Oct. 1. Another 7,000 summoned in draft calls 28 and 29 will be taken by Nov. 1. State Selective service headquarters reported, Negro inductees from Ohio numbered 2,611 on Oct. 1.A total of 47,097 Ohioans already was in the armed forces or enlisted prior to Oct. 1. Of that total the Army had 22,504, the Navy 12,338
National Guard 10,135, Marine Corps 22,200 and the Coast Guard 370.The state's first draft call was for only 996 men but on Dec. 23, 1940, a total of 9,958 Ohioans were called out to bring the 37th (National Guard) division to full wartime strength of nearly 19,000 men.Successful calls were small and then, almost simultaneously with registration of 750,000 men just turned 21, congress cut the nation's potential manpower supply nearly a third by deferring from training all men over 28 on July 1.Congress next extended the service term from the original one year to a period not to exceed 30 months. Then last month the army announced that approximately 200,000 selectees, including an estimated 7,500 from Ohio, would be released by Christmas.From Camp Shelby, Miss., 18 Ohioans started home today as the first group to be released from the 37th division under war department orders honorably discharging many soldiers over 29 years of age.
About 2,000 soldiers from the Ohio outfit are expected to be released either because of their age or dependency.Legionnaires Aid
In Navy ProgramCharles H. Carey post No. 56, American Legion, has joined with the 525 other American Legion posts in Ohio in a unique effort to enlist at least one company of 140 men for the United States Navy by Navy day, Oct. 27, it was announced today by Commander R.
L. Hutcheson.The campaign has been inaugurated at the request of Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, who in this manner has challenged the Legion to make good on its repeated pledges to give the fullest assistance to national defense. With 338 ships now being built for the new two-ocean navy, the need for men is obvious.The local post will receive full credit for every man recruited through its efforts, and all those enlisted in Ohio by Legion posts will be sworn in as a company at the state capitol in Columbus, Oct.
27, in the presence of Gov. John W. Bricker.The program was included in a general rivers and harbors program approved by the committee. The approved legislation makes no appropriation.P. L. & W. MAY BUY

Signal and Columbiana, O., from the Youngstown and Suburban

ern also asked permission to abandon 7.4 miles of line between Signal said a high level bridge over the Republicans Reported Ready

To Support F. D. R. Policy(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Well-informed house sources reported today increasing signs that Republicans were slowly abandoning their opposition to President Roosevelt's foreign policies and would vote in surprising numbers to permit the arming of United States merchant ships.These sources predicted that the final roll call, probably tomorrow, on a resolution to repeal the neutrality act prohibition against putting guns on cargo vessels would show more Republicans voting
"aye" than on any recent foreign-policy legislation.This shift in sentiment was reported as the house met at 11 a. m. an hour earlier than usual to start debate on the simple repealer.MANSLAUGHTER

SLAYING MANShooting Occurs After Two Girls Leave On Western Trip(By Associated Press)
PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 16.—A sobbing, 16-year old Alexandria, Va., boy was quoted by police today as confessing he shot an Alexandria contractor to death in Maryland Monday morning, while running away from home with two youthful girl companions in the victim's automobile, and that he then hid the body beside Route 1, near the Maryland-Pennsylvania border.The three, held on "safe keeping" in Alexandria, Va., were identified on police records as: Herbert H. Cox, Jr., 16; Ida May Price,
15, and Leona Ellen Cunningham, 14.Assistant County Attorney Richard S. Chapman said the boy maintained the contractor, known to the young trio only as "Browning," tried to make advances to one of the girls—they were 14 and 15 years old, respectively—and that when his remonstrances went unheeded, he whipped out an automatic pistol and shot "Browning" dead.Ten miles further on, the boy was quoted as saying, the 38-year old victim's body was dragged from the car and hidden. Chapman said it was uncertain just where the alleged crime was committed.However, police at Raleigh, N. C., told Portland authorities by telephone that the car registration was issued to G. G. Browning of Route 3, Mount Olive, N. C.Chief of Police Edward Dodwell said Maryland state police notified him the body of Browning had been found by a newspaper reporter near a road 35 miles north of Baltimore.Browning had agreed, Chapman said, to give the youngsters a ride from their trailer-camp homes in Alexandria "to Baltimore or beyond."ONE WEEK REMAINS IN TAX COLLECTIONLISBON, Oct. 16.—The collection

last week is progressing satisfactorily, according to County Treasurer Glen H. Dawson, who today called attention to the fact that there is but one more week before the close of the collection Saturday, Oct. 25.Statements covering delinquent personal taxes were mailed at the ments were sent out, and all per-

TOKYO, Oct. 16.—The Japanese government resigned tonight, admitting its inability to agree on the great issues confronting the empire.
Failure to reach an accord with the United States and growing military pressure for action in the crisis arising from German successes against Russia were strongly indicated as major factors in the ministry's fall.Premier Prince Fumimaro Kono-ye presented in bloc the resignation of the cabinet, his third, to Emperor Hirohito amid increasing press agitation for an end to efforts to conciliate the United States."Kono-ye had let it be known he would not take responsibility for a break with America."The resignation followed several days of intensive consultations among the empire's highest, over some of which the emperor himself presided. Until tonight there had been no official intimation that a cabinet crisis was imminent.Domei, news agency close to the government, said formation of the new government, whether under Kono-ye or someone else, probably would get under way tomorrow.The resignation came shortly after a foreign office announcement that the staff of the Japanese embassy in Moscow and other, Jap-
strengthened Russian capital for an undisclosed destination.It was said that similar withdrawals had been urged by the Russians upon all other embassies and legations there so Japan's action was not the result of isolated circumstances.A board of information announcement said the cabinet resigned because of the lack of a complete agreement over a method of pursuing national policy.The outgoing cabinet was formed July 18.Prince Kono-ye summoned the ministers separately to his official residence during the afternoon and explained the reasons for the cabinet's resignation. Then, having obtained their consent, he proceeded to the imperial palace and submitted the cabinet's resignation en bloc to the emperor.

UNDECLARED WAR OR UNSATISFACTORY PEACE?

Discussion of neutrality act changes in terms of war if the changes are made and peace if they aren't is as absurd as a victim trapped on top of a burning building debating whether to jump into the firemen's net or sit down and enjoy the fire.

The United States can choose undeclared war, which would be the effect of arming merchant ships and thereafter sending them into combat zones; i. e., zones where Germany is maintaining a blockade against contraband. Of it can choose unsatisfactory peace, which would be the effect of continuing to give Germany leeway to do almost everything it wants to do without running much danger of tangling with the United States. As President Roosevelt has said, it is improbable that Germany ever would declare war on the United States; there would be no reason for Germany to declare war if it continued to reap the benefit of this government's existing policy of restricting its own freedom of action.

That kind of peace would not be a guarantee against war. The United States could have had that kind of peace by telling Great Britain in the midst of the aerial blitzkrieg it was staggering under a year ago not to expect any help from America. It could have had that kind of peace now by telling Germany this, henceforth it will do everything in its power to help Germany and harm Great Britain. There is not the slightest likelihood that the British alone could win the kind of war Germany is prepared to wage. Ever with the help of the United States, the war's outcome is a tossup.

The United States is not, however, interested in a state of affairs that would be called peace merely to indicate an absence of belligerency. It is interested in a state of affairs that will enable adherents of peace everywhere to quit wondering where the warrior powers are going to strike next. The gentlemen in Washington who are debating the issue of changing the neutrality act will do well to quit talking about peace as though it were something the United States could obtain merely by not doing something.

STRICTLY HONORABLE MOTIVES

Germany's effort to breed distrust of America's war aid among the British turns on a precarious point—that the British would rather take a chance on the motives of their German cousins than on the motives of their American cousins.

The dark picture that Nazi propagandists are painting of Britain being dominated by America after being betrayed by British leaders probably is a glare of light and good hope compared with picture of Britain dominated by Germany. After all, the United States has given the British a lot of expensive help and is prepared to give them a lot more. From the Germans they have had nothing but aerial bombs, torpedoes and long-range artillery fire.

Aside from that, however, the key to the situation is whether the United States wants to dominate the United Kingdom. From the German viewpoint, which puts domination as the objective of all national action, it is unthinkable that Americans could go to all expense of helping Britain without some ulterior motive. But the German viewpoint is notoriously cockeyed on matters of this kind.

Germany can't possibly comprehend the United States. The natives, themselves, can't comprehend it. All they know is that for years they have been giving away their shirts to every good cause that came along and getting nothing in return but a kick in the pants. The latest good cause is aid to Great Britain. The only nation on earth that has a reputation for being a soft touch is running true to form. Americans don't want to dominate anything. They just want to give an underdog a break.

There also is the additional motive of wanting to throw a wrench in the gears of Hitlerism, which is another story and something that German propagandists can't talk about.

QUICK SWITCHERS

While it may be borrowing trouble, bug-eyed speculators can't be blamed for wondering what the American Communists will do if Russia goes under.

Discipline is their only visible asset. Their doctrine, even in Russia, is a good deal like brotherly love—something that would make an interesting experiment sometime. Karl Marx couldn't have foreseen how his followers would be left clutching his gaslight era theories in an age of electricity, too loyal to admit that their favorite theorist might have been influenced by new circumstances.

Discipline made the Reds chum up to Nazi Germany when that was the Moscow line. It made them scowl down their noses at Germany and chum up with the United States when that became the Moscow line. If it should become the Moscow line to knife the United States and chum up with Germany again, in the manner of Vichy, the Reds would obey. One of the repercussions of Russian defeat undoubtedly would be another quick switch by the quickest switchers in the business.

THE STARS SAY:
For Friday, October 17

A FAIRLY active and progressive day is read from the lunar transits. This in spite of erratic, surprising or irregular developments. Such may pertain to family, social or artistic contacts, calling for sound tactics and stability to circumvent loss and unhappiness. The best success should be found with public transactions, travel, agencies or publicity or writings. A close watch on sarcastic or caustic speech may prevent trouble.

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a lively and progressive year, with all pertaining to writings, travel, publications and agencies enjoying accomplishment and financial increase. But peculiar, eccentric or sarcastic tendencies may precipitate some strange or peculiar adventures, probably where social, emotional or domestic stress and strain figure.

A child born on this day should have great versatility, resourcefulness and a scientific or intellectual ability making for financial success. Its home life may offer some antagonisms, perhaps due to its caustic speech.

THE WAR TODAY
By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The Russian command at midday indicated that the Red lines were holding firmly against the increasingly violent Nazi assault on the defenses of the capital, but while the Muscovite statements were cool and determined they plainly were calculated to emphasize that the beleaguered city is in dire peril.

The German encircling movement continues, but the main force of the Hitlerian thrust is being flung against the defenses directly west of the metropolis along the old Napoleonic route. An authoritative source in London said that the battle here probably had reached its crisis.

By this he meant that the Nazis and Bolsheviks are at grips close to the main bulwarks of the city in this frontal zone. If these fortified positions are reached and give way, the chief obstacle remaining before the Germans will be a wall of grimly battling Red soldiers.

The Nazis are pouring a steady stream of reinforcements, both man-power and mechanized equipment, into the conflict here in an attempt to smash through these vital defenses by sheer weight. The conflict is bloody, and the dead are piled high.

As a companion piece to this great crisis, another has boiled up in the Far East. The Japanese government has fallen because of a disagreement over the method of pursuing the national policy of expansion.

The powerful military group has been anxious to take advantage of Russia's perilous position and strike at Siberia. More cautious advisers have feared that such a move might bring war with America. The fall of the cabinet undoubtedly means that at last the issue is to be faced squarely—shall Japan caution to the winds and hit at Russia while the Bolsheviks are battling for their lives on the western front?

Should Tokyo decide to issue such a challenge there can be no doubt that possibilities of American involvement in the war would be greatly increased.

Doctor Resumes Study of Overweight Problem

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
The relativity theory in physics states that all energy has mass. Therefore when energy is added to a watch spring by winding it up, it has greater mass than when unwound. The difference is too small to measure in a watch spring. The difference does not become measurable in moving bodies until their velocity approaches that of light.

So we will turn that over to Mr. Einstein, but stored energy in the human body becomes measurable very soon when it approaches the appearance of fat. Fat is stored energy. It is really wet gunpowder because it is hard to get it burned, as every overweight knows. It comes from starchy and sweet foods—also and mostly from fat in the diet. That is a minor tragedy because fats in the form of sauces, gravies, salad dressings, butter, the fat of meats, creamy desserts make up the most delicious, tasty and tempting of our gastronomic elements and they tempt the overweight on a reducing diet more than somewhat.

The three most famous systems of reducing depended on eliminating three different elements from the diet—Banting's eliminated carbohydrates, Oestel's eliminated fats and Ebstein's restricted proteins. But the real secret was not what they restricted, but that they reduced the total intake.

Banting's, so famous that the word has become a verb in the English language, was originated by a London business man, William Banting, who had reached such a weight crisis that he could not tie his own shoes and had to go down stairs backwards. He tried violent exercise, such as rowing, without any success; nor did a course of Turkish baths do him any good.

candy, potatoes. Which had hitherto been the main and as he thought, innocent elements of his existence. He lost 35 pounds in thirty-eight weeks. Like everyone else who has ever tried it, he found the new weight dieting that I can conscientiously assert that I never lived so well as under the new plan of dieting. Banting also found a piece of wisdom still worth repeating: that many articles of diet are insidious enemies to an elderly man though eminently friendly to youth.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

T. J. B.: "I have recently been fitted to glasses, and since then have been bothered with styes in my eyes. My friends tell me that I have not been fitted correctly. Could the glasses be causing this trouble?"

Answer: Certainly incorrectly fitted glasses lead to styes. The poor correction makes the eyes itch, and you rub them and drive germs into the hair follicles of the eye lashes, which results in styes.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendenning has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendenning, 235 E.

45th st., New York. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene," and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

Legal Residents

CLEVELAND, Oct. 15.—Cuyahoga county's 2,000 trailer families have a second official ruling supporting their legal residence. Common Pleas Judge Frank S. Day held up constitutional provisions of a Fairview village ordinance limiting their stay to 30 days. Earlier the board of elections granted 75 residents of a Brooklyn village camp the right to register and vote provided they had lived at the same address at least 90 days and in the state a year.

Find Plane of Lost Ocean Pilot

The first clues as to the fate of Thomas H. Smith of Clarksburg, W. Va., who disappeared on a trans-Atlantic flight to England on May 28th, 1939, are shown in these photos, taken after American Air Corps flyers found his plane on the desolate coast of Newfoundland.

Smith had left a note in the cockpit of the undamaged plane which indicated he would attempt to walk back to civilization. Top photo shows an aerial view of the plane. Center photo shows some of the stones he piled to indicate his walking route. Bottom photo shows the hut searchers found four miles from the plane. Officials doubted that Smith could have lived for long in that wild and desolate region.

Music Enjoyed At Meeting Of Women's Unit

Special music, a clarinet solo, "Swiss Boy" (Bent), by Maybelle Huston and Homer Asmus, featured the program for the Women's association meeting in the Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon. Miss Betty Merry was the accompanist.

Mrs. J. M. Kelley presided at the session and Mrs. Hannah Maule led the devotional service.

Plans were discussed for the November committee of the association to serve the annual Father-Son banquet at the church Nov. 4.

Announcement was made of a gift to the association in the will of the late Mrs. Ida A. Kilbourne and of memorial gifts to the church from Mrs. Homer Barber.

The group will meet again Nov. 19 at the church.

Wesleyan Class

Hears Book Review

A delightful review of the book "The Sun Is My Undoing" by Margaret Steen was given by Mrs. Irene Matthews at a meeting of the Wesleyan class of the Methodist church last night at the home of Mrs. H. C. Hurlburt, Highland ave.

Mrs. E. T. Trebilcock, leader of the devotional service, read poems from Frances Lester Warner's "The Pleasure of Your Company".

A gift was presented by the class to Mrs. Edward Alexander who is secretary for the year.

Lunch was served by the hostess and her associates, Mrs. Verne Rich, Mrs. E. S. Ellis, Mrs. Russell Smith and Mrs. Richard Coe.

A coverdish supper and "white elephant" sale is planned for the next meeting during the week of Nov. 13 at the church.

FOUNDER'S DAY

NOVEMBER 13

First Beauty Queen, Lucy Webb Hayes.

Today's May Queen, Mary Kirkpatrick.

DELAWARE, Ohio—One of the first big celebrations of Ohio Wesleyan's centennial year will be Homecoming, Nov. 8. On this day George E. Gauthier, director of athletics, will attempt to reassemble some of the great football teams of the past. Former coaches, including Fielding Yost and Branch Rickey, are expected to return to the campus. More than 1100 "W" men have been sent invitations.

On November 13 a special chapel service will be held, celebrating Founder's Day. Men on the campus will raise boards for the occasion and co-eds will put up their hair in the fashion of yesterday.

During its first 99 years Ohio Wesleyan has grown from a student body of 29 to nearly 1500; 90 graduates have become college presidents. The first building was an unprofitable inn, The Mansion House. There are now seventeen buildings scattered over three campuses.

Alumni and friends of the university are now engaged in raising a birthday gift of one million dollars to be presented to their alma mater at the close of the present academic year.

Today's Pattern

NEW APRON IS "MAID-AT-HOME"

Pattern 4906

When you're "Chief Cook and Bottleswasher" of the family, a pretty apron helps to get your work done pleasantly and quickly. Pattern 4906 by Anne Adams is made quickly too, with the Sewing Instructor to aid you. The shoulder straps come down to the waist in front, in back they button together to keep from slipping off your shoulders. You'll like the way they may be prettily accented with ruffling or tie-tac, and you'll like the roomy pockets, too. A tie belt begins at either side of the slim center front panel and ties in a bow in the back. Make up several of these charming aprons—start them now perhaps as Christmas gifts!

Pattern 4906 is available in sizes small (32-34), medium (36-38) and large (40-42). Small size, apron A, takes 2 1/2 yards 35 inch fabric and 1 1/2 yards ruffling; apron B, 2 1/2 yards ruffling.

Send FIFTY CENTS (45c in coins for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS and STYLE NUMBER.

Nutrition Program Outlined By FSA

Nutrition, or Better Diets for a Stronger People, has become one of the most important factors of the "Food for Defense" campaign of the United States Department of Agriculture, according to Miss Ardis Matz, home management supervisor for the Farm Security administration in Columbiana county.

With a nutrition unit organized or to be organized in every county in the nation, the Farm Security administration is pledged to take its part in the program and is working in Columbiana county with other agencies.

Regional staff members of the Farm Security administration in this region have outlined the special part of the FSA in the program as including:

1. To increase the consumption of vegetables.

2. To change and improve old and inherited food habits.

3. To induce the production and use of more eggs, milk and vegetables and other "protective" foods.

4. To supplement diets with foods to which farm families are accustomed but which are not used with best effects.

5. To work not only for production but distribution, education and bridging the gap between low incomes and needs.

6. To link diet necessities with fundamental needs like longer tenure of land which will develop pastures, diversifications, soil enrichment and improvement of living conditions generally.

"Farm Security borrower-families," Miss Matz said, will be urged to grow bigger fall gardens. Every effort will be made to enrich the diets of the low-income families in our program. This campaign has become a national movement, and we feel that a special obligation rests upon the Farm Security administration.

"The work of the FSA, perhaps more than any other agency, lies among the groups of lowest income, among whom is likely to be found the greatest number of persons undernourished to the extent that an alarming number of its youth are found to be unfit for military service because of dietary deficiencies."

Miss Matz said FSA employees will work to see that diets of FSA families measure up to the nutritional "Gold Standard," which includes one pint of milk a day for an adult and more for a child; a serving of meat, one egg, two vegetables, one of which should be green or yellow; two fruits, one of which should be rich in vitamin C, found abundantly in citrus fruits and tomatoes; some butter, breads, flour and cereal, most preferably all whole wheat grain or enriched.

Ruth Hussey, Melvyn Douglas and Ellen Drew as they appear in "Our Wife," sparkling sophisticated comedy that'll have you yelling for more!

Melvyn Douglas, Ruth Hussey and Ellen Drew have the leads in the comedy-romance, "Our Wife," at the State theater Friday and Saturday.

Charles Coburn, John Hubbard, Harvey Stephens and Theresa Harris have supporting roles in the story of a wily wife who likes successful husbands only, and who is not too scrupulous about her methods of getting them.

"Concerned mainly with the widely divergent methods of ensnaring a husband and holding him, the story shows the winning ways of two types of women—both intent on winning the same man."

Concluding tonight at the State is the drama, "This Woman Is Mine," featuring Franchot Tone, John Carroll, Walter Brennan and Carol Bruce.

The Grand theater's attraction tonight through Saturday will be a double feature, "Tillie the Toiler" with Kay Harris, William Tracy, Daphne Pollard, George Watiss, Jack Arnold and Marjorie Reynolds, and "Bad Man of Deadwood," with Roy Rogers and George Hayes.

Legislators Will Get Mileage Allowance

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, Oct. 16.—Senate and house clerks prepared today to mail $4,174.80 in mileage allowance checks to state legislators after the Ohio Supreme court dismissed a suit testing constitutionality of the payments.
The court, by a five to two decision, held that no debatable constitutional question was involved and dismissed the action brought by the late Arnet Hargabe, West Jefferson farmer, contending that legislators were entitled only to their $200 a year salary.
Franklin county common pleas and appellate courts previously ruled that five cents a mile to and from home once a week was a valid allowance to legislators.
The Supreme court dismissed the appeal of the state building and loan superintendent from Tuscara- was county decisions giving the Citizens Building & Loan Co. of Cincinnati and the Citizens Savings & Loan Co. of Dennison authority to reorganize as real estate and mortgage companies.
The court also refused to review the appeal of Wayne L. Smith, former Licking county deputy sheriff, from his conviction of embezzling $3,933 in public funds.

Suggests Agricultural Deferrals Be Lowered

COLUMBUS, Oct. 16.—Col. C. W. Gie, state director of selective service today requested the Mercer county draft board at Celina to reconsider the classification of 75 men who had been deferred because of their agricultural occupation.
While state headquarters had considered the Mercer board's occupational deferment of 268 persons as unusually high, it said that an investigation disclosed no irregularity or partiality.

Roosevelt, However, Hails It As Monument to Ways of Peace

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—The new Argentine-United States trade pact, hailed by President Roosevelt as "a monument to the ways of peace," was denounced by Soloed (R-Minn) today as a "foul and fatal blow" for the American farmer.
"The President has sacrificed his fellow American farmers on the altar of his so-called 'peace,'" Andersen said in a house speech calling the agreement "a complete sellout" of all farmers engaged in dairying, cattle and sheep raising.
The treaty was signed in Buenos Aires last night by United States Ambassador Norman Armour and Argentine Foreign Minister Ruiz Guinazu. It gave Argentina reentry into this country of such staple products as canned corned beef, hides and wool. It assured the United States of continued "most favored nation" treatment in the shipment of automobiles, refrigerating machinery, and gad-gets without number to the rich Agrarian republic to the south.
However, these advantages were considered by close observers of Latin American affairs to be minor in comparison to the psychological impact of the agreement.
The very fact that Argentina and the United States had at last reached a mutually satisfactory trade accord was seen as significant, since for generations the two republics have stood at the opposite diplomatic poles when not actually at loggerheads. Argentina is often critical of United States big business methods in the rest of Latin America.
After the original commercial treaty between the two nations was negotiated in 1853 on instructions from Secretary of State Daniel Webster, repeated efforts were made, in 1869, again in 1883, and at other times to expand the terms of the agreement. Finally, on July 10, 1899, a treaty was signed in Buenos Aires between the two governments—but it never was ratified by the United States senate.
Negotiations were reopened after passage of the trade agreements act in 1934.

Church of Former Salem Minister Is Music Conscious
A church so music-conscious that it maintains six vested choirs, comprising 225 voices, is reported in an article by Dr. Sidney A. Mayer, formerly of Salem, now pastor of the First Methodist church in Cuyahoga Falls, in the current issue of "The Pastor," a professional journal serving 25,000 Methodist ministers throughout the country.
The six choirs in the church, based on six distinct age-groups, does more than add greatly to the enrichment of the worship service, says Dr. Mayer in his article. It binds the whole family more closely and creatively to the church program. From the Tiny Tot choir, from which the children graduate, through to the Senior choir, there is a consistent program of musical education which is beneficial not only to the church, but to each individual church member.
Three of the six choirs perform every Sunday morning. The Senior choir has the first anthem each Sunday and leads the procession. One of the younger choirs has the offertory anthem one Sunday each month. The third choir is used to assist in the opening professional and to lead the Junior church procession during the sermon. Our times a year all choirs participate in a program devoted exclusively to music.
Dr. Mayer was admitted to the Northeast Ohio conference in 1923. He has served pastorates in Lake-side, Clyde, Salem and Willoughby.

HIT-SKIP CONFESSION ENDS CANTON SEARCH

CANTON, Oct. 16.—Louis J. Christian, 21-year-old steel worker whose surrender Wednesday, police said, ended search for the hit-skip car which killed Richard Baxter, 16, here last Thursday night, will be arraigned in municipal court Friday morning on charges of leaving the scene of an accident and suspicion. He is free on $1,500 bond.
Christian, who told Sergeant James B. Quilligan he was driving the car, surrendered a half hour after police started a systematic inspection of more than 4,000 1941 General Motors cars registered in Stark county. Headlight glass found at the scene indicated it was a car of this model which killed Baxter. Christian's name was about 300 down on the list, Sergeant Quilligan said.

COLUMBIANA MISSION GROUP ENTERTAINED

COLUMBIANA, Oct. 16.—Mrs. C. B. Ragle presided at the meeting of the Presbyterian Missionary society at the church Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. M. L. Forbes led devotions. Mrs. Virginia Felger presented the topic, "Alaska." Mrs. G. W. Griswold presented a study of "India."
Miss Mollie Buzard entertained members of the Harmony club at a luncheon at Valley Golf club Wednesday. Ten members were present. Mrs. Walter McKain of Youngstown conducted the business meeting, at which time the club voted to join the Red Cross. The afternoon was spent sewing. The next meeting will be two weeks at the home of Mrs. McKain.
The meeting of the Philo class of the Methodist church has been postponed until next Thursday, starting with a casarole supper at 6:30 p. m.
George Madtes, Youngstown newspaperman, was the speaker Wednesday evening at a Father-Son banquet sponsored by the Churchmen's brotherhood of Grace reformed church, about 80 being in attendance. He spoke about the inner aspects of National Security, warning of domestic perils we should guard against.
Roy V. Harrold, president of the brotherhood, presided as toastmaster, and R. G. Smith led group singing. Special musical numbers included: "Anniversary Shouts and Esther Gobrecht," trombone solo, Olive Vrehan; and a piano solo, Myrna Lee Harrold. The dinner was served by the Ladies Aid society. Arrangements were in charge of a committee composed of Leo Hollaway, Richard Orr, Albert Ferrall and Harry Daley.

Held In Fatal Fight

WOOSTER, Oct. 16.—A manslaughter charge has been filed by Sheriff E. E. Mills against Harvey Budd, 34, of West Lebanon, in connection with the death of Harvey Woods, 48, of a Massillon hospital after his head hit a door in a fight with Budd in a West Lebanon beer parlor.

Food for Syria

According to London, Vichy military requirements so depleted food supplies in Syria that the country was near famine when taken over by British and Free French soldiers who now are feeding the inhabitants. Farm Loans Offered By County FSA Unit Tenant-Purchase loan applications for Columbiana county are still being accepted by the Farm Security administration, Emil Malinovsky, Columbiana county FSA supervisor, announces. The applications are being filed for loans for the purchase of family-type farms under provisions of the Department of Agriculture's Tenant Purchase program.

Malinovsky said that those eligible for the loans are farm renters and farm laborers. Selection will be made from bona fide farm families with sufficient experience or farming background to qualify them for successful farm ownership.
Preference will be given to married persons, with further preference to those with dependent families. The community activity of the applicant and possibilities of becoming permanently established as shown in his past farming record are important considerations. Persons should have sufficient livestock and equipment to carry on farming operations but must be unable to secure credit for farm purchases from other sources, he explained.
Loans for the purchase of the farms will be made at the rate of 3 per cent interest, with repayments extending over a period of 40 years. If desired, or necessary. Needed farm and home improvements and repairs are included in the loan to carry the same rate of interest.
Those interested in securing a tenant loan should file application at the Farm Security administration office, located in the courthouse at Lisbon.

STRIKE IN DETROIT LEAVES 8,000 IDLE

Great Lakes Steel Corp. Has Fourth Walkout In Four Months

(By Associated Press)
A new strike halted operations today at a big Detroit steel plant, while at Pascagoula, Miss., AFL union leaders recommended resumption of work at a strikebound shipyard.
The dispute at the Great Lakes Steel corporation in River Rouge was the fourth in four months, and officials of the firm termed it a "wildcat" strike. The plant employs 8,000 men and has many defense orders.
Four hundred men present at a union meeting last night booted down Orville Kincaid, their regional director, when he attempted to announce the results of wage adjustment negotiations he had carried on with the management. One critic said the adjustments called for an increase of only one cent an hour for common labor and a picket line was formed at the plant gates a short while later. The CIO union has had a contract with the company since July 16.
The announcement of the back-to-work move at the Pascagoula yard of the Ingalls Shipbuilding corporation came from Federal Conciliator Bruce P. Holcombe, who said that representatives of various metal trades unions had agreed to recommend to their membership resumption of operations after three days idleness.
The strike, affecting 2,800 men, was certified to the national defense mediation board by the labor department, which explained that the AFL boilermakers union had struck because some of the pipe welders in the plant were trying to form an independent union.
The yard has $150,000,000 in national defense orders.
Union acceptance of a compromise wage boost ended a strike of service workers which had closed eight of the largest hotels in Pittsburgh for 15 days. The hotel operators agreed to increase payrolls by $215,000 a year—a 14 per cent hike as compared with the 20 per cent originally demanded by the strikers.

Farm Foreclosures At Lowest Level Since 1934

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Farm foreclosures declined 30 per cent during the last fiscal year to the lowest level since 1934. The Farm Credit administration reported today. They numbered 18,133, compared with 25,861 in the previous year.
Farmer borrowers were said to have taken advantage of improved farm income and liberalized credit facilities of the FCA to reamortize and pay off old loans.

PRISONER BOARDING COSTS SHOW DROP IN SEPTEMBER

LISBON, Oct. 16.—The Columbian county board bill for prisoners quarantined in the Mahoning county jail totaled $295 for September.
This is a marked reduction over last month's bill of $600 and is attributed to the release of a group of inpatients confined by Judge Frank Grosshans of East Liverpool.

URGES INCREASE IN CANTON PRODUCTION

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—The OPM recommended today an increase of 318,000 tons annually in the electric alloy and stainless steel ingot capacity of the Republic Steel company plant at Canton, O., for manufacture of aircraft forgings and armor plate for tanks.
The recommendations were to the defense plant corporation an RFC affiliate, and were based on a report by W. A. Hauck, steel consultant.
Hauck's report said an industry-wide increase of 1,000,000 tons in electric alloy ingot capacity was urgently needed, as were finishing plants, to manufacture hardened steel for aircraft tank armor, shells and machine tools, if defense production was to continue at high speed.
The proposal for Republic Steel calls for five 50-ton electric furnaces and necessary supplementary equipment. If necessary priority ratings are granted, it was estimated, the new facilities could be in operation within five or six months.

platory" talks in Washington which followed the sending of a personal, still unpublished message by Koyama to President Roosevelt.
Many Japanese considered the seven weeks since the Koyama message a period of true Japanese-American tension. The end of that true may be signaled by the Koyama resignation. Recent advice has indicated that if he felt the new government would be more completely military in character and follow a more aggressive international problem.
(The Japanese military element has been watching keenly for signs of Russia's collapse before the German war machine. If that collapse comes, experienced observers believe, the Army will insist on a drive into Siberia to end for good "the Russian menace in the Far East.")

REPUBLICANS READY TO SUPPORT POLICY

Slowly Abandon Opposition to Roosevelt's Foreign Program

He proposed that Republicans follow their course in 1917 and 1918 when, he said, "we joined wholeheartedly in every effort to finish the battle; we substituted cooperation for opposition."

Urgency Is Cited

While the Democratic majority on the foreign affairs committee contented itself with a brief report to the house asserting that the neutrality act amendment was "a matter of extreme urgency," the six Republican dissenters filed a voluminous document which held that arming of merchant ships would not provide effective protection for their crews and that the proposal "is part of an administration plan to destroy our neutrality laws and put us into war by subterfuge."

It was signed by Representatives Vorys (R-Ohio), Tinkham (R-Mass), Jonkman (R-Mich), Mundt (R-Sd), Chipfield (R-Ill) and Bolton (R-Ohio).

The six said that experience had shown that ship arming was in effective and often did more harm than good. They also quoted Secretary of the Navy Knox as having said last month that the government did not have sufficient guns to arm all the ships.

However, Knox told a press conference yesterday that arms would be installed as rapidly as the merchant ships could come into ports, even though there might not be enough weapons to outfit all of them at this time.

On the senate side, meanwhile, informants reported the foreign relations committee would seek to complete hearings on the ship-arming measure by the end of next week and that the leadership would try for final senate passage by Nov. 1.

Aid Defense Effort, Bankers Are Told

CANTON, Oct. 16.—Calling upon the public and bankers to do their part in the national defense effort and warning against inflation, John E. Wise, president of the Ohio Bankers association, spoke before the annual meeting of Group Eight of that organization here last night.

The banker-president urged the wide purchase of defense bonds and stamps by the public, strict compliance with new restrictions on installment buying and lending, and the curtailment of non-defense expenditures by the government.

"If we do not aid materially in the purchase of defense bonds and see that this method of financing is successful," Wise said, "it is almost certain that any other money-raising plan will threaten great difficulty, if not disaster."

"Sound fiscal policies must be adopted by our government despite their political effect. Sound policies mean curtailment of non-defense spending, increased taxes distributed fairly some curtailment of credit and probably a degree of control of prices. Failure to follow such a program can mean only a trend toward inflation with its accompanying disasters."

An agricultural credit forum designed to show the services local banks can render to farmers was led by Dr. Phil Eckert of the college of agriculture, Ohio State university, assisted by W. L. Hart of the Farmers National Bank, Salem, and F. P. Henry of the Alliance First National bank.

Roy W. Moore, Ohio chairman of the Defense Bond campaign, spoke on behalf of that movement and thanked the banks for contributions they have made to it without profit to themselves.

Ohio Liquor Sales Are Up 19 Per Cent

COLUMBUS, Oct. 16.—Ohio liquor sales for the first eight months of this year increased 19.76 per cent over the corresponding period of 1940, the State Department of Liquor Control reported today.

Sales for the eight months totaled $42,206,160, a gain of $6,963,799 over last year and $10,700,095 over the similar 1939 period.

Net profit and gallonage taxes up to Sept. 1 amounted to $12,155,972, or $1,623,095 more than during the first eight months of 1940 and $2,708,245 more than in the like period of 1939.

Operating expenses, meanwhile, dropped $28,150, totaling $2,246,682 compared with $2,274,841 for the first eight months of 1940.

The department reported that its $3,727,553 inventory on Sept. 1 was somewhat higher than usual for that time of the year because of the purchase of reserve stocks in anticipation of supply priorities and transportation difficulties.

"These stocks will be liquidated during the holiday season and the inventory at the end of the year should be no higher than usual," the report said.

More Police Needed

COLUMBUS, Oct. 16.—Safety Director Roy B. Weed asked city council last night to give "serious consideration" to the addition of 132 men and 10 cruisers to the police department to handle traffic problems made more complex by parades, football games and a general increase in the number of automobiles.

He estimated the additional men would cost the city $240,000 a year in wages. The force's present strength is 357.

Oil Shipping Ban Modification Seen

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, Oct. 16.—Petroleum Coordinator Harold Ickes was reported today to favor modification of an order banning gasoline shipments to Ohio from eastern states.

Ickes was understood to have recommended to Donald Nelson, priorities director, that shipments of gasoline produced by recovery during production of lubricating oils be permitted from the Appalachian district—New York, Pennsylvania and West Virginia west of the 78th meridian.

Officers of the Ohio Petroleum Marketers' association were not prepared immediately to estimate what percentage of Ohio's gasoline imports from the east was of the type covered in the suggested amendment to the order.

The modification was not expected to disturb the broad ban on export of gasoline from the eastern seaboard designed to prevent further lowering of gasoline supplies in the east.

The order was issued Oct. 1 but extended until yesterday.

Slaying Occurs After He and Two Companions Leave On Trip

authorities, no charges were lodged against the children. Chapman said the boy was "all broken up" and asked repeatedly "do you suppose I'll be electrocuted?"

The boys and girls were taken into custody after the boy's aunt, whom they were visiting, suspicious that the North Carolina-plated car they were using had been stolen, notified the police.

The boy, Chapman added, came to Portland in search of work. At Conowingo, Md., near the Pennsylvania line, state police organized a search for the body, beating through the woods along U. S. Route 1. Sergeant E. W. Reith said Pennsylvania police were conducting a similar search north of the state line.

From Alexandria, police learned only that the young trio had been reported missing since Sunday—they said they left Sunday night in Browning's car.

Chapman made public the resume of the story.

All three youngsters, and Browning lived at the Martha Washington trailer camp on Powhatan ave. in Alexandria.

The girls, a sophomore and freshman at George Washington High school, decided to run away with the boy, Browning, whom they had met through a friend only a few hours before they left, offered to take them "to Baltimore or beyond" in his car, a gray sedan.

"About 3 a. m. Monday" the quartet stopped to rest on the road "about 10 miles beyond Baltimore." (Chapman said he thought they must have been further north.)

Browning, at the wheel, started to "make advances" to the older girl, sitting beside him.

The boy, in the back seat with his cousin, "resented the idea of a man that age getting fresh with a young girl," protested, grew angrier as Browning continued his advances, and finally drew an automatic pistol from his pocket and "fired, hardly realizing what he was doing."

The bullet went through Browning's back.

The boy drove on, about 10 miles, then dragged the body into bushes "just off the road."

HARRIMAN AND AIDS LEAVE FOR AMERICA

LONDON, Oct. 16.—W. Averell Harriman, who headed the U. S. delegation to Moscow to arrange for aid to Russia, left Great Britain by air today for the United States where he will report to President Roosevelt.

Six of Harriman's advisers accompanied him on the bomber flight.

They were: Maj. Gen. James E. Chaney, special military observer in London; Admiral William H. Standley, retired; William L. Batt, chief of the materials divisions of the office of production management; Naval Captains Clinton E. Baine and Frank P. Thomas, and Harriman's assistant, Robert P. Meiklejohn.

EAST ROCHESTER, Oct. 16—The West and Hanover township Sunday school convention will be held Oct. 22 and 23 on Wednesday evening in the Kensington Christian church, and the second night in the Methodist church in Kensington. Plans are being made to secure speakers for the meetings.

Mr. and Mrs. August Greibenow of Canton have moved to their farm south of town.

Reunion in West

Mrs. Perry Vanpelt of East Rochester, Mrs. Emma McCoy and Miss Jane McCoy of Cleveland left Thursday to visit the former's sister, Mrs. Ella Fogle of Los Angeles, Calif. The two sisters have not seen each other for 26 years.

Mrs. Hartwell Davis has returned home from Alliance City hospital. Deland Garm has returned from the Alliance hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hill spent the weekend with Rev. and Mrs. Floyd Jangler in Martinsville, N. J.

Hostess to Class

Busy Workers Sunday school class met at the home of Mrs. Zoe Murray, Wednesday. A coverdinner was served at noon.

The business session was in charge of the president, Mrs. Clarence Betz. Mrs. C. E. Marietta had the devotionals.

Guests were Mrs. C. E. Marietta, Mrs. Maggie Bettis, Mrs. Lucille Oyer and Mrs. Morris.

Mrs. Alban Taylor spent Sunday with her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Taylor in Minerva.

Learn of Death

Friends here received word of the death of Mrs. Thomas Stahl, wife of Rev. Stahl who passed away in Aultman hospital, Canton. The Stahls were residents of East Rochester about 30 years ago. Rev. Stahl is a retired Methodist minister and for several years they have been making their home in Canton. She is survived by a daughter, Miss Hilda Stahl, who is a teacher in State Teachers college, Duluth, Minn.

Mrs. and Mrs. W. V. Hanna of Carrollton called on Mrs. Gertrude Fawcett, Sunday.

Lord Harsh of Canton visited the Charlie Brenner and Ralph Brenner families, Sunday.

Women's Society of Christian Service met in the church Tuesday, with Mrs. Lurene Lanham, Mrs. Lucille Oyer and Mrs. Blevins as hostesses.

Mrs. J. E. Hill had the program which consisted of group Scripture readings. Rev. Zimmerman, the pastor gave a missionary dinner. Mrs. Kathryn Mottice and Mrs. Morris of Akron were guests. Lunch was served to 28.

The annual Ohio-Eustis, Fla., picnic was held at E. M. Brady's Stony Hollow Pioneer Camp Sunday. Basket dinner was served at noon to 36. Several more guests came later in the afternoon.

Mrs. Lorin Morckle and Mr. O. E. Whitacre were appointed on the program committee for next year.

Byrd Scientific Data

Designated For Miami

OXFORD, Oct. 16—The Byrd Antarctic expedition soon will move its permanent scientific headquarters to Miami university's campus from Boston. A. H. Upham, Miami president, announced today.

Upham said the lower wing of the university hospital had been approved for use of the expedition, and the change of offices is expected to be completed shortly after Nov. 1 under direction of Prof. F. Alton Wade of the Miami geology department and chief scientist on the expedition completed last June.

The headquarters here will coordinate compiling of scientific reports of the expedition which returned last summer from the South Pole after more than a year on the Antarctic ice shelf.

Haurod P. Gillmore, official recorder of the expedition, will complete here an account of the trip for the federal government, which backed Admiral Richard Byrd of Boston in the exploration.

Quakers Hold Last Scrimmage Before Wellsville Game

COACHES PREPARE FOR THIS WEEK'S GIRDIRON FRAYS

Study Main Points of Their Opponents and Then Keep Drilling

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, Oct. 16.—Since the Western conference football race gets down to the play-for-keeps stage this week, listen to the coaches preparing for Saturday's grid meetings:
Mal Elward, sorely needing a major victory for his Purdue team, lashes at forecasts making Ohio State the favorite with the words: "We're not going to Columbus for the ride."

Ohio State's coach, Paul Brown, fully expects the Boilermakers to unleash some plays kept hidden in the Pitt and Vanderbilt games.

Brown watched his varsity try to break up Purdue formations yesterday, then shelved offensive maneuvers for final practice sessions.

"The freshmen just tore the varsity apart," he declared. "The practice was very unsatisfactory, so we are going to spend additional time on defense—more than we anticipated and planned for."

Irish Play Tech
This is the week that Notre Dame with present momentum off, can breathe easily for a few days before renewing an arduous schedule.

This is the week Notre Dame plays Carnegie Tech.

Next week things shouldn't be much worse for the Irish, Illinois is on the schedule for Oct. 25, and while Coach Frank Leahy and his associates will treat this one with caution, they see no need to get all worked up. That'll come later, before Army and Navy and Northwestern and Southern California.

The Carnegie-Irish game threatens to set a new low for pre-game forecasts this season. The Tartans aren't even hinting they might have an upset in their jerseys and Notre Dame isn't professing any fear of Coach Eddie Barker's gang.

Badgers Meet Iowa

Coach Eddie Anderson and his assistant, Silo Kinnick, have been taking an active part on the field in Iowa's preparations for Wisconsin, but when Saturday comes Tom Farmer and Bill Green will be put to work with aerials against the Badgers. . . . Wisconsin, which has a pretty fine offensive threat in Pat Harder and ends Dave Schreiner and Pat Lyons, is more concerned with defense for its first home conference game.

Passer To Play

Dick Good may get Illinois' call at quarterback Saturday against Drake during Liz Astor's layoff with an eye infection. . . . The South Bend, Ind., sharpshooter was the Big Ten's No. 1 boy on forward passes last year. . . . Captain Gene White and Fred Huff, two first string Indiana linemen, may not see action against Nebraska Saturday because of injuries.

Northwestern vs Michigan

Faced with the loss of stalwart right tackle, Leon Cook for the Michigan game, Northwestern's Coach Lynn Waldorf inserted sophomore, Tony Sammaria in the vacancy. . . . Tony is one of five erstwhile second string linemen being considered either for starting job Saturday or as reserves to see a great amount of action. . . . Michigan's second line is considered almost as good as the first wall but it's the backfield that worries Coach Fritz Crisler. . . . He's still concentrating on forward passing.

Draft Doc Has Joe Wide Open

This is probably the first time Heavyweight Champ Joe Louis has been so wide open as another man gives him a going over. But this time it happens to be the draft medical examiner in Chicago who found that the physique which carried the champ through 19 title defenses was plenty good enough for the Army.

BOWLING RESULTS

The Salem Label, led by Grate's 97 and Miller's 592, last night hung up game scores of 906 and 942 and an evening's total of 2729 in taking three games from London's V-8s in pastime league bowling. Other three-game winners included the Iron Club over the Eagles No. 2 and C. B. Hunt over the Elks, by forfeit.

The Gold Bar posted games scores of 929 and 934 in taking two of three from the Citizen's Ice, while Huffer paced the Albright Realtors with a 617 in giving them a 2-1 victory over the Sponseller Contractors and keeping them in the pole position in league standings.

Jackson's service scored a 2-1 win over Bloomberg's in the only other Pastime game.

Masonic Ladies League
Kresge's swept three games from Brownie's while two game winners included Wark's over Mullins, Stark's over the Bankerettes, and the Ohio Edison over the Salem News.

Halfbacks Are Sold
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 16.—Sale of Johnny Noppenberg, formerly of the University of Miami, to the Detroit Lions and Francis Maher, last year's Toledo university star, to the Cleveland Rams was announced by the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Professional football league. Both are halfbacks.

VIRGINIA'S DUDLEY IS NATION'S TOP SCORER AND GAINER

Good On Ground and Air. He Leads America For Second Week

(By Associated Press)
SEATTLE, Oct. 16.—Swashbuckling Bill Dudley of Virginia, the nation's highest scorer, continued today as intercollegiate football's top ground gainer for the second week.

Dudley, who's 53 points in four games established him as the gridiron's high point man, is shown in American football statistical bureau figures as leading the country in total offense and rushing offense, and ranking fourth as a forward passer.

He has collected 315 yards in the air and 331 on the ground for a total offensive figure of 646 yards in 92 plays. He has completed 21 of 38 passes, with one interception, for a 53.3 percentage.

A sensational sophomore, Elmer Madarik of Detroit, ranks next to Dudley in total offense—gains rushing and passing. Johnny Grigas of Holy Cross is the second best rusher.

All-American Frankie Albert of Stanford is the nation's outstanding forward passer, despite his difficulties with the wet ball when his team was blanked by Oregon State last week. Frankie has completed 28 out of 53 passes for 302 yards and a 52.8 percentage. He's had five interceptions.

"Barnacle Bill" Busk of Navy is the leading punter with a 45.45 average for his 11 punts. One of Madarik's Detroit teammates, veteran Howard Keating, an end, is the leading pass receiver with 14 caught for 168 yards.

Comeback Trail Looms for Former Champions of Turf

(By Associated Press)
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 16.—Hope dies hard in the breast of many a horse trainer, and it never fades in the heart of a race track publicity head, but there is absolutely no truth in the rumor that Man O' War is training for a comeback at Santa Anita this winter.

Old Seabiscuit accomplished a remarkable feat in climbing out of the turf graveyard and winning the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap in 1940.

But there was only one Seabiscuit. Santa Anita has had more than its share of disappointments. Remember ill-fated Twenty Grand? Calaveras? And of more recent date, Chaldean?

Well, don't plunge now, but Chaldean is coming back again. He's been pointed for another try, at least. The Gallant Marylander, a great horse in his day, was forced to try a comeback at Santa Anita last winter, and again last summer at Hollywood Park.

Kayak II is coming back, too. He was the South American stand in for C. S. Howard's Seabiscuit in 1939. He stood in well, too, winning the hundred-grander that year.

He suffered a cracked hoof last winter, and has been on the shelf since.

There are other comeback hopes. A. A. Baren's Specific, Tom Taggart's Big Flash. No, nothing has been heard about Heely yet.

All of them will have to come back a long way. Longer than usual, because Warren Wright is shipping quite an animal out this winter.

His name is Whirlaway.

Blue Sox To Meet
All members of the Salem Blue Sox baseball team will meet at 7:30 tonight at the home of Joe Hrivatin.

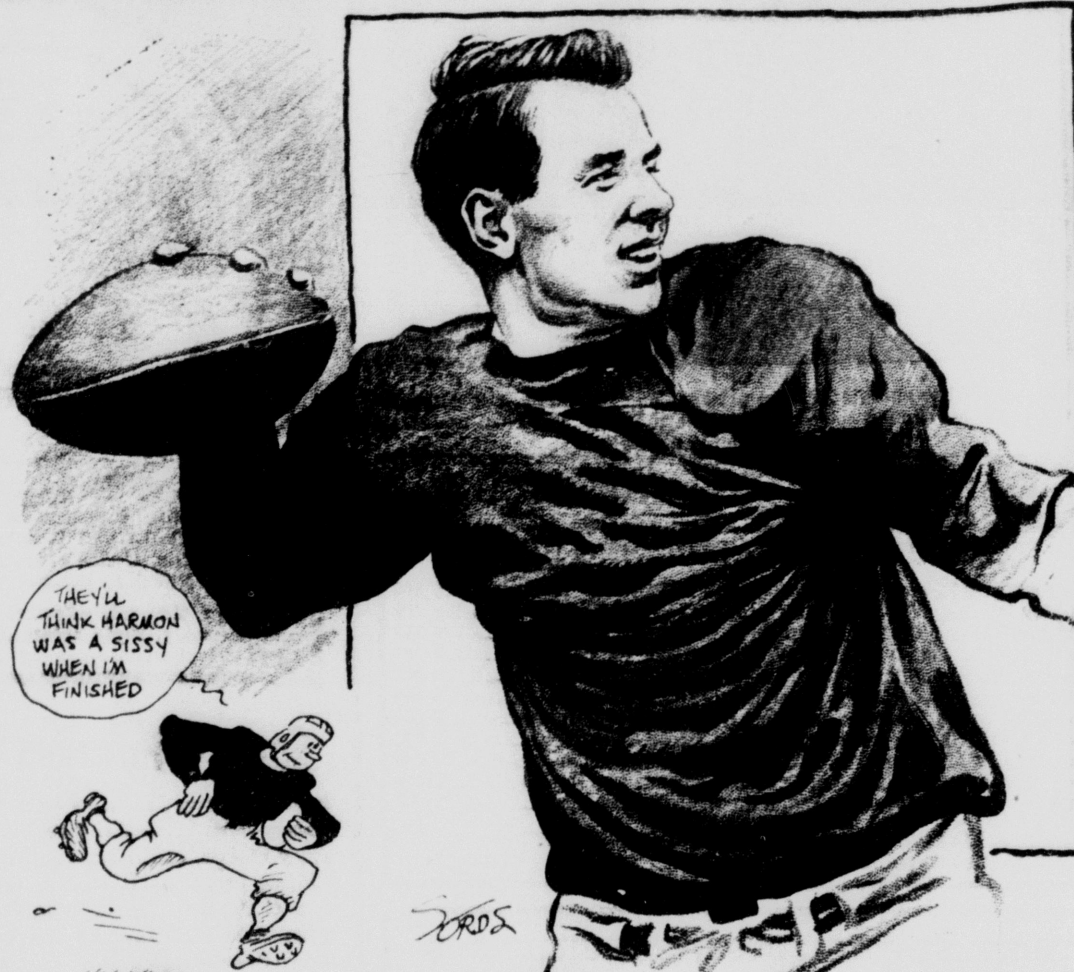

Rides Six Winners On One Card

Jockey Alfred Robertson is pictured on the scales at Jamaica race track in New York before booting home the last of his six long shot winners. This feat ranks as one of the most spectacular to be achieved by any jockey for many a racing season.

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—It may come to open warfare in the south before the colleges finish their argument over who is taking whose football players. . . . The Atlanta Journal, which helped stir things up by pointing out that Southern conference schools seemed to be doing better since the Southeastern leap put a ceiling on help for athletes, came out a short time afterward with the news that Georgia Tech spent $43,840.10 last year. . . .

This led to the query from a few miles north: "Who in the Southern conference, besides Duke, has access to that many potatoes?"

Cleveland promoters are looking for a senout crowd at the Lem Franklin-Abe Simen scrap next week. . . . Pee Wee Reese plans to spend most of the winter trying to strengthen his left leg, which has been none too dependable since he hurt his heel a year ago.

Hot Stove Warmup
The rumor that Bill Terry is heading for a front-office job up even though all hands profess to know nothing about it. . . . However, some insiders expect Sweet William and Boss Stoneham will get together at the winter meetings and come up with a new contract for Bill to stay with the Giants. . . .

Another story is that Rog Peckinpah will get Cy Slapnicka's vacated office at Cleveland and that Gabby Hartnett has the inside track for the job as manager.

Red Face Department
When the Arnold college football team from New Haven, Conn., came to New York last week to play Wagner, the players were all ready to dress for the game when they discovered the uniform trunk had been left behind. . . . A plane brought the equipment in time and the grateful team manager invited the pilot to see the game. . . .

Riverside Race Track At Kansas City Razed
KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Kansas City's Riverside race track, which flourished in the days of the Tom Pendergast regime, is being torn down. . . . Wrecking crews work amidst the crumbling buildings erected by Pendergast and Phil McCrory, co-owners, in 1928. The first race meet was held that year and fairly regularly for nine years thereafter, despite the fact that Missouri never legalized racing.

Bulls Wallop Bengals
AKRON, Oct. 16.—Bob Davis, Columbus Bulls halfback, flipped touchdown passes to Roci Spadacinni and Nelson Peterson, and scored twice on runs to lead his team to a 35-6 American Professional football league victory over the Cincinnati Bengals. Lenny Thom intercepted a pass for the Bulls' first score. Cincinnati's only come came on a plunge by Fullback Lee.

"BRUSH UP" THEIR FORMER PLAYS FOR ACTION TOMORROW

Reserves Look Better In Drill; May See Action Against Tigers

The Salem High school Quakers last night held their last scrimmage before journeying to Wellsville tomorrow night to tackle the Tigers. They have spent the greater part of this week running through their tried and true repertoire of ground and aerial plays and will merely limber-up in game suits when they meet for practice tonight.

Coach Ray Overturf announced that the Quakers will spring no new plays when they meet Wellsville, but their work on blocking and tackling this week will set their regular high-geared offense off to new advantage.

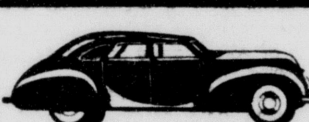

Though there will be no change in the starting lineup, it is probable that more substitutions will be used in the Wellsville fray than has been the case before. This stems from the fact that the heavy 155-pound average Wellsville line will be a difficult job for one man to handle during the whole game and from the fact that several Salem second stringers have looked much better than usual in practice drills.

Dick Culberson's play in last Friday's game against Struthers is almost certain to earn him a chance to repeat tomorrow night. In practice sessions this week the work of Anton "Toots" Hivatin has been above average in the backfield and he may be expected to see action in the Wellsville fray.

Charles Juliano and Frank Etrinken, linemen, looked much better in a scrimmage between the Reserves and the Campbell Memorial Reserves Monday night and will probably get a stab at action tomorrow night, too.

BARRED SEVENS by MARYSE RUTLEDGE

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN

Fan was waiting. He went slowly toward her. She glanced at him over the brim of her champagne cocktail. "You look as if you'd seen a ghost, Mat."

She had fixed her pale gold hair in cockle-shells, and wore white satin, moulded to her tall figure. "Perhaps I have," Breanu made no attempt at warmth.

"I wish we could be gay tonight," she said restlessly. She was losing him, she thought. What could she do?

They went in to dinner. Breanu thought of Jane Rider's steady, brown eyes. She'd never chatter. Fan was drinking too much champagne. "Better go easy," he warned, his dark eyes very still.

"Who cares?" She motioned to Doremus, who walked around her cat-like, only refilling her glass when Breanu nodded.

Would the dinner never end? Doremus retired to the pantry; took off his shoes, chanting.

"Born in Alabama, raised in Tennessee."

A Mississippi woman made a fool out of me."

Fan, her nerves frayed, jumped from her chair. "My God, must he sing? Do you mind if I go into the living room?"

"Of course not," Breanu half rose, at dawn again, his blunt features immobile. "I'll be along presently." But he stayed where he was, brooding over his cigar. Why had Carlie's mirror broken tonight, when so much was at stake?

Nothing could possibly happen. His hook up with the secret group in Bucharest and Rio had no weak links. He, Mat Breanu, in the shadow of tragedy, couldn't be stopped. The complicated network of political intrigue, of well-disseminated graft, was too cunningly laid, his arrangements perfect. It had taken months. But any day now, his first shipment of parts of arms for secret troops would leave through his grafted routes.

He crushed out his cigar. He hated to be taken in. Fan had done just that. . . . Fania Rubloff, a Ukrainian adventuress, had been spying on him. To be safe, he must either marry her, or else—

Breanu sat on, scowling. Some day Fan would betray him. At the back of this conviction moved the blond man whose face he had never clearly seen. A silhouette woven into events that went back to a living Carlie.

A blond man—if one believed Fan—was mixed up in the attempt on her life last Sunday. That same morning a blond man came to the apartment and, ushered into the library in all good faith by Doremus, had waltzed into the room. He had knocked him out. Why? Because he didn't want Breanu's friend and lawyer to remember him.

Breanu leaned his elbows heavily on the dining room table. In the pattern of intrigue, something—a small vital detail—had escaped him.

Fan Rubley fretted in the beautiful living room. She had felt so sure that with the state troopers and the New York City police still investigating Carlie's murder, Breanu would do nothing rash. She had counted this perilous week, on keeping him in view at the more conservative night spots.

Everyone knew Carlie had left him months ago. Better be considered callous, Fan thought shrewdly, than to hide from surmise and gossip. She had believed herself quite clever in writing anonymously to that nice young fellow, Bill Wright, whom she had met during the so recent inquest. Let him trail Breanu evenings, to find her always at his side. But she wasn't so sure, now, that she had acted wisely.

Her tall figure wandered among the damask and carvings Breanu loved. In this large, mellow room, the stark shapes of the grand pianos stood out. Of the two, the one Breanu always played was at the right; a silver-framed photograph of Carlie its only ornament.

Fan sank into one of the big Italian chairs nearby. How often in the past Carlie had sat on that bench, playing Viennese waltzes or singing the latest hits in her low, husky voice!

Carlie used to say, laughing, "This is my bench. If I ever die, I'll haunt it!" She had said that, without laughing, to Dick Garrison the last time she sat there—months ago.

Fan started, as Mat Breanu came in, followed by Doremus with a tray of liqueurs.

Mat's smile didn't reach his eyes. "You'll forgive me for having left you alone so long?"

Fan threw her head back, her nose delicately arched above her crimson mouth. Her eyes asked him for the carous he didn't give. When a man stopped loving you, nothing you could do mattered.

She got up quickly, and went to the liquor tray. When she turned, Mat was at the piano. His lowered eyelids shut her out. Perhaps he felt Carlie's presence on this, her bench.

Breanu played softly, dreaming of peasants in embroidered white flowers behind their ears. They danced, tossing their heads to the sway of their bodies. He heard the howl of wild dogs in villages; saw sodden fields and stern mountains. The bleat of flute notes quickened to gypsy rhythms.

The strains grew more poignant. Breanu rocked on the bench, drawing frail melancholy from the keys. It needed only the fine-spun plaint of a violin—

"Stop! I can't stand it!" Fan, on her feet, cried out.

Breanu crashed on a discord; swung from the bench, his olive-skinned face convulsed.

The telephone, in the corner nearest the sun room, rang.

"I'll take it," Fan said quickly.

"Mine!" He was upon her; twisted the receiver from her hand. He listened. "I'll be right out," he said.

His clipped tone was enough. Fan knew, and froze beside him. If he compromised himself tonight in that arms smuggling business, and came to harm through the letter she had written to Bill Wright, it would be her fault.

"Please, Mat—don't go. I mean," she faltered, "don't leave me alone."

"You keep out of this," their eyes met; suspicion in his, appeal in hers.

If he hadn't pushed her impatiently aside, she might have confessed her tip-off to the young newspaperman. Then with a shudder she remembered Mat's strangling hands at her throat the day she had told him her real name and background. She backed away, her lips closed.

He called Doremus and ordered a car to take Fan home, and another for himself. Breanu raised Fan's hand, kissed it lightly, and murmuring an excuse, went into his bedroom. He opened a deep closet, and from a recess took two ebony sticks exactly alike, except that one had a gold band beneath its crooked handle. He touched a spring in the hand, pulled the handle. Slim, tempered steel glinted, and sank back in its ebony sheath.

Fan was gone when Breanu walked out of his room, carrying the gold-banded stick. Doremus handed him his dark felt hat and black topcoat, with a worried side glance.

The "Broadway big shot" suddenly smiled at the one person he could depend on. "It's all right, Doremus," he said. "Don't wait up for me."

In the shadows of Central Park at 94th street, David Farland and Bill Wright waited in the latter's fast car. Would this night prove as futile as the last?

Time dragged. Suddenly the Breanu's white limousine appeared.

"Cafe rounds again!" David muttered disgustedly. But Fan Rubley got in alone, and was driven off.

"Here's our break!" Bill whispered.

A black sedan slid to the entrance. Mat Breanu came out, swinging his ebony stick. He stepped into the car which turned west through the park, and was too engrossed in his own thoughts to notice that he was being followed.

Jane's heart-ache lessened as she drove through the pleasant September afternoon with a man she had distrusted up to now. If Helm's friends, these George Givens, gave her a temporary job, she wouldn't feel so badly about the library laying her off. Was it her fault if she and David had been hurled into a sensational murder case?

Kurt Helm watched the firm profile, softened by brown, parted waves of hair. He read the tenseness of brow, of lip, as following his directions, she dipped onto a lower road, overlooking the Hudson whose strong waters were smooth today.

Kurt had waited for this moment. "You can't blame small towns for their reaction against outsiders," he said gravely, his blond head bending nearer hers. "You and your mother are a part of Rockland county. Suddenly you're plunged into drama, among people you've never known. Carlie was a socialite before she eloped with Mat Breanu some years ago. Naturally, when she's found stabbed in your car under much mysterious circumstances—"

"Poor thing! It isn't that I'm not sorry for her," Jane said, in a small troubled voice. Carlie's background was so remote from the staid old houses they were passing.

"I know," Kurt Helm said quickly. "Take the hill and the first road to the left. I mean that this isn't a local crime," he added. "Carlie danced and played wherever there was music and laughter. Richard Garrison remained her only socially impeccable friend—perhaps because he was Breanu's attorney." Helm's guttural voice carried a faint sneer.

He shrugged. "As for Fan Rubley—"

"You seem to know a lot about them," Jane murmured. She wished they would reach the Givens house. She didn't want to talk about Carlie any more.

But Helm continued. "So here you have pouring into our little community, people from the big town—all of them more or less under suspicion. In spite of yourself, you're mixed up with them. Scandal touches you." He paused. "Come to think of it, young Farland is a New Yorker, too."

TRUMBULL COUNTY RAILROAD MAN SAYS TON JON HELPED BEYOND HIS EXPECTATIONS

Dizzy and Fainting Spells Along With Other Disturbances Force Man To Quit Work. Takes TON JON and Relieves These Things With Ease.

HOWARD HUNTER

"I work for the New York Central Railroad as a section hand and because this is hard work, my health is of great importance to me," says Mr. Howard Hunter, lifelong resident of Kinsman, Ohio, R. R. No. 1, near Warren.

"I had a stubborn case of constipation and my liver troubled me greatly. A few months ago these conditions forced me to quit working because I was unable. I had dizzy spells, biliousness, offensive breath and taste, and my gall bladder disturbed me periodically. Once last summer, I had a fainting spell, apparently due to this liver disorder. In the mornings my eyes would be so puffy that it was necessary to bathe them in order to get them opened. Sometimes ago I thought I needed glasses because of the miserable headaches I always had, but they didn't help me because my trouble was originating from other sources.

"I saw TONJON advertised and thought perhaps it might help me. It surely did, too, for now I am able to work without tiring so easily and I feel better in every respect. I had been overweight but now I have lost 16 lbs., which makes me feel much better. I never have those dizzy or fainting spells any more and my eyes and head are in grand condition. TONJON has helped me beyond my expectations."

TONJON is not just one medicine, but three different medicines. TONJON 1, 2, 3, that gets at the cause of the trouble as no other medicine has ever done before. TONJON is now being sold here in Salem at the Broadway Lease Drug by the TONJON Health Representative.
